From the information provided on this microsite and the Sandwich Technology School website – as well as knowledge that you might personally have of the profile of STS in local, national and international education – you will see our very strong reputation for innovation and achievement. We wish to build on this success and embrace new developments that will provide better outcomes for our students and for our community. With this in mind, the Governors are seeking a visionary leader who will seize opportunities and respond rapidly to a changing educational landscape.

We firmly believe that Sandwich – as a school and a community – has benefited greatly from the varied and extensive outreach activities undertaken by Veronica Gomez and her team in local, national and international fields.
