Teaching

Teachers make the education of their pupils their first concern and are accountable for achieving the highest possible standards in work and conduct. Teachers act with honesty and integrity; have strong subject knowledge, keep their knowledge and skills as teachers up-to-date and are self-critical; forge positive professional relationships; and work with parents in the best interests of their pupils.

Teachers in the Federation of Goodnestone & Nonington CE Primary Schools support the schools' vision to be an "Inclusive Learning Community, rooted in God".

To fulfil our vision, our teachers promote the Christian values of wisdom, trust and hope. Our teachers believe that these Christian values are fundamental to the learning journey of our pupils and both schools and teach pupils about our Christian values and their roots in the Bible and the work of Christ.

Our teachers develop pupils that are confident, secure, creative, aspirational, respectful and compassionate. These are the core values which we aspire to instil within our pupils.

Teachers within the Federation support our mission to:

- Develop a love for learning within our pupils
 - Develop our pupils' talents and widen their experiences
 - Ensure that strong relationships are built between pupils and within the school and the wider community
 - Develop spiritual awareness and encourage mutual respect, showing sensitivity to the differences between each other
 - Ensure our pupils are able to contribute positively to modern life in Britain
- The core purpose of our school is learning. All our teachers ensure learning behaviour is maximised so pupils are able to grow.

Our teachers use the Visible Learning (John Hattie, 2012) mind frames to reflect on the developments within our schools. These are;

- Teachers believe that their fundamental task is to evaluate the effect of their teaching on pupils' learning and achievement
- Teachers believe that pupils' success is about what they do as teachers
- Teachers talk more about learning
- Teachers see assessment as feedback about their impact
- Teachers engage in dialogue
- Teachers enjoy the challenge of making a difference to learning
- Teachers believe that it is their role to develop positive relationships in the school
- Teachers inform everyone about the language of learning.
