An opportunity to work in an ambitious primary-age department within an exciting 3-16 independent day school. Our close-knit team of Kindergarten staff deliver a rich curriculum to small classes, drawing inspiration and well-being from our beautiful, leafy setting in the grounds of the home of Charles Dickens.

Our Future: Built on our History

Gad's Hill is an independent day school for boys and girls aged three to sixteen years, located near Rochester, Kent. Based within the former home of Charles Dickens, the School is ideally situated with easy access to the M2 motorway and high-speed rail connections to London. The School combines modern facilities with timeless values. The Kindergarten and Junior School occupy purpose-built accommodation opened in 2013. The Senior School occupies Charles Dickens' former home, along with a range of other buildings including accommodation for specialist and practical subjects. At the present time, the School has just over 370 pupils on roll and employs around 90 staff, approximately 40 of whom are qualified teachers.

Our Mission

Our mission is to enable our students to enjoy school, to achieve good academic qualifications and to develop those personal attributes and qualities which will guide them on their journey through life.

Our Vision

Our vision is to be the first choice independent school for families in Kent who value a well-rounded education for their children. It is our intention that our pupils leave Gad's as confident, mature, articulate, pleasant and self-reliant young people who are well equipped to enter the world through a university education or career of their choice.

Our Values

We value excellence, enthusiasm, friendship and success. These attributes underpin all that we do. Our mission, vision and values are shaped by our commitment to educate children holistically, as articulated by our school motto: "First to thine own self be true".

Our Ethos

We believe that children do well when they are happy at school and at Gad's we pride ourselves on providing a friendly environment, where enthusiasm and hard work are the foundations for achieving success.

There is more to life than exam results alone and while Gad's enjoys the reputation of receiving good GCSE results this is not our sole focus. We want to offer our pupils a foundation in life, working with them to become confident, motivated and articulate young people ready for the next stage in their education and life beyond.

Our Future: Built on our History

Our History

Gad's Hill Place is world-famous as being the former home of author Charles Dickens, who lived here from 1856 until his death in 1870. It is here that he penned his classic novels "Great Expectations" and "A Tale of Two Cities".

In the 1920s Gad's Hill Place was converted into a school for girls and in September 2001 the school became fully co-educational, admitting boys throughout. Gone, however, are the days when the school could be housed solely in an 18th century country manor house. In recent years the School has developed the site, against the backdrop of the historic house. After a lengthy process, planning consent was finally secured in July 2010 to develop entirely new accommodation for the whole School.

Phase I (built) is the Kindergarten and Junior School along with a number of whole-school facilities. Phase II (not yet under construction) will be new accommodation for the Senior School.

The Present

Our new building is now the established home of Kindergarten and Junior School, along with a number of facilities used by pupils of all ages: a music suite, sports hall, assembly hall and catering and dining facilities. These facilities provide future generations of pupils, aspiring sports stars, budding young musicians and actors with the resources that they need to thrive and excel.

The Future

It is hoped and anticipated that the second phase of the project will see the demolition of a mix of buildings erected through the School's history, and the construction of a new Senior School. In recent months, some consideration has been given to working up a more phased approach to delivery of the new Senior School buildings. Once the new Senior School is complete, the historic house will be leased to a charity established to see the building used as a heritage and educational resource, celebrating the life and work of Charles Dickens.

The Gad's Hill Curriculum

The School

Gad's Hill School operates as three distinct departments within one school. The Kindergarten takes children from age three in our Nursery through to Year 2. Here, alongside the foundation in literacy, numeracy, sciences and humanities, there is a strong emphasis on play, physical education, music and drama with all pupils performing in a number of short productions each year. The school places particular emphasis on communications and therefore pupils from Reception upwards receive twice weekly lessons in Spanish and also ICT.

The Junior School is two-form entry from Years 3-6. Our Junior pupils receive a high proportion of lessons with subject specialists; in particular Modern Languages (Spanish), DT, ICT, Art, Music, Science & Games. By Years 5 and 6 nearly all lessons are delivered by specialist tutors. In sport our students have the opportunity to represent the school in fixtures against other schools.

Our school is located geographically within a selective secondary system and historically many of our pupils would leave to attend grammar schools at the end of Remove (Year 6). However, in the last few years, the growing success of our Charles Dickens Scholarship Award, providing financial assistance to the most able pupils from our own Junior School and many from the wider community, has resulted in the development of highly capable and aspirational cohorts at Key Stage 3. Our strength is to make the most of our small class sizes and supportive atmosphere to add significant value to every individual.

The Senior School generally has a two-form entry. The curriculum is relatively broad, with all pupils taking a spread of subjects including Art, DT, Food & Nutrition, Spanish, Computer Science, Music and Drama. Students choose a range of options at the conclusion of Year 8. They follow a core of Maths, English (Literature & Language), Separate or Combined Science and CCF (comprising BTEC Teamwork & Personal Development and Institute of Leadership & Management diplomas). As options they may choose from History, Geography, Spanish, Art, Food & Nutrition, DT, Computer Science, Music, Drama and PE, and in recent years we have supplemented these options with Psychology and Statistics exam courses for our increasingly able cohorts.

At present there is no sixth form education at Gad's Hill and pupils currently depart for local schools, colleges or other independents. In the last year we have partnered with the University for the Creative Arts and several of our leavers have commenced Extended Diploma courses with them.

The school operates a good number of after school activities and would welcome new additions to the extra-curricular programme.

The Gad's Hill Curriculum

The Ethos

The Headmaster, Mr Paul Savage, was appointed in August 2018, having previously occupied the role of Head of Seniors. His vision is to provide generations of pupils with all the opportunities and individual care and guidance that an independent school can provide, but underpinned by a passionate commitment to the evaluation and refinement of quality teaching and learning, based on the latest educational research.

Our Curriculum Intent

Gad's Hill School's One Curriculum is an ambitious and challenging curriculum for a child's educational journey from 3 to 16. It is designed to deliver strong outcomes in a broad range of GCSE subjects and other valuable areas of achievement, allowing leavers to progress to their first choice of further study and equipping them with the teamwork, independence and leadership skills necessary for rewarding careers and adult life.

The One Curriculum covers issues of critical importance on a global scale, as well as reflecting the rich history and cultural diversity of Medway, Kent and the South East of England.

The school achieves good academic results with the vast majority of pupils leaving Gad's to attend their first-choice sixth form destination.

Gad's is not an academic hot-house. We place a priority on our children enjoying school and one way in which we do this is to ensure that there are ample opportunities to experience drama, music, competitive games, swimming, trips, visits and CCF to keep our children occupied, challenged and inspired. Most of these things never appear in a league table but we believe that by ensuring children enjoy their time here they are much more likely to contribute in all aspects of their school life and this benefits the academic side too.

At Gad's we pride ourselves on being a small friendly school, where academic success is valued along with the recognition that there are many other attributes which a good school will offer to best prepare a child to live their lives. The joy and agony of team games, the discipline and concentration of learning an instrument, the confidence and challenge of performing to an audience, the awareness of the complex world around them, the care and concern for others and the opportunity to shape their destiny.

The curriculum favours opportunities to make learning enjoyable and incorporates significant opportunities for speaking and listening to produce articulate and thoughtful young people who are capable of empathy for others and keen to serve their community.

The curriculum allows for learning to be supportive and personalised, taking advantage of the high levels of expert guidance within each classroom, while still offering excellent value for money in its delivery. Through the school's curriculum, children learn how to look after their own wellbeing and develop compassion for the wider world.

The Role: EYFS Teaching Assistant

The Purpose of the Role

We are currently seeking an EYFS Teaching Assistant from the commencement of the Autumn Term 2022. This role will initially be working as part of our highly collaborative nursery team.

The pupils at Gad's Hill receive a first-class education in a small class in an environment with fantastic facilities including a Forest School and extensive grounds. Gad's Hill has an established Kindergarten department, with a Nursery on-site.

The post requires someone who is passionate about working with young children, and is able to develop and hold the trust and confidence of their parents. The successful candidate will be a person who values (and is skilled at) working as part of a collaborative team.

You will be passionate about teaching and have an understanding of EYFS provision, will have experience of working in early years settings and be committed to providing high quality learning and experiences for all children. As a member of staff, you will be valued and supported; in return we are looking for commitment, drive and enthusiasm.

Key Accountabilities

- To prepare materials in advance of sessions at the direction of the teachers to support the learning of children in accordance with the Early Years Foundation Stage.
- Act as key person for children under the direction of the Early Years Leader.
- Establish a constructive relationship with pupils and interact with them according to individual needs.
- To complete duties in relation to lunch, registration or other times during the school day to ensure the safe care & supervision of the children.
- Be aware of and comply with policies and procedures relating to child protection, equal opportunities, health and safety, security, confidentiality data protection, reporting all concerns to the appropriate person.
- To record observations and to plan the next steps for pupils.
- To support small groups with activities and implement the Early Years Foundation Stage.
- To support in running the pre and post school for all pupils.
- To supervise and plan engaging activities for Holiday Club.

The Role: EYFS Teaching Assistant

Essential Qualities

- An excellent practitioner with very good relationships with students.
- Experience of working with EYFS children.
- Experience of the Early Years curriculum and regulatory requirements.
- Good written and communication skills.
- Confidence in using ICT programmes.
- Excellent standards of professionalism.

Essential Qualifications

- Level 2 or 3 childcare qualification or equivalent.

Desirable Qualifications

- Evidence of continuing and relevant professional development.

The Process

Completed application forms are to be received by email only to the Headmaster, Mr Paul Savage, via his PA, Mrs Tracy Barker: t.barker@gadshillschool.org.

Completed applications must be received by the School no later than 10am on Wednesday 18th May 2022. Please note that if you do not receive an acknowledgement of your emailed application by this time please contact the School as a matter of urgency as you should assume your application has not been received.

Interviews will be held at the School in the week commencing 23rd May and it is hoped that the selected candidate will be able to commence employment from the start of the Autumn Term 2022 (Tuesday 30th August).

Gad's Hill is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and we expect all staff to share this commitment. All posts are subject to enhanced Disclosure & Barring Service checks (DBS) and pre-employment checks will be undertaken before any appointment is confirmed. An overseas police check will be required by candidates who have worked or resided outside of the UK in the last 5 years.

Key Details

Contract: Full time and permanent (subject to successful probation)

Pay: £20,579 per annum

Hours: 9 hours per day, 08,00-17.00, Monday to Friday, term time only; PLUS Holiday Club supervision, 4.5 weeks of the year. Plus paid annual leave.

Start date: Autumn term 2022 (30th August 2022)

The Benefits

As an independent school – working without some of the curriculum and other constraints of the maintained sector - we have a slightly longer school day but enjoy a generous 16 weeks of school holidays.

An attractive setting, small class sizes and polite, friendly children with high standards of behaviour make for a hugely rewarding place to work. Parking is provided on-site and a subsidised, home-cooked lunch is available each day in term time.

Children of all staff receive significantly subsidised education at Gad's Hill (fee assistance of up to 85%), subject to our policy and standard entry requirements.

And Finally...

We thank you for your interest in this exciting opportunity, and look forward to receiving your application.
