

RAINHAM MARK GRAMMAR SCHOOL

TEACHER OF RELIGION, PHILOSOPHY AND ETHICS – FIXED TERM CONTRACT FROM 1 JANUARY 2020 TO COVER MATERNITY LEAVE

The Department:

The Religion, Philosophy and Ethics Department at Rainham Mark Grammar School is outstanding. It is a high performing subject at GCSE and A level. RPE is recognised as part of the Core-Curriculum at all levels, in addition to which large numbers of students opt to study RPE further at KS4 and KS5.

At KS3 we follow the Medway Agreed Syllabus for Religious Education. Students study Christianity, Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism in KS3 as well as learning to think philosophically by looking at the arguments for God's existence and the Problem of Evil.

At KS4 students can opt to take a GCSE in RS. They follow the AQA Syllabus A (Christianity and Buddhism). All Year 10 and 11 students follow an Ethics and Values course for one lesson per fortnight.

In the Sixth Form good numbers opt to take the subject following the Cambridge Pre-U Philosophy and Theology course.

The department is staffed by an enthusiastic team of experienced teachers who play an active part in the wider life of the school.

The Post:

We are looking to appoint an inspiring, hardworking and enthusiastic teacher of Religion, Philosophy and Ethics who is keen to contribute creatively to the success of the department. The post offers the opportunity to work with high ability young people in a school which values the subject and supports its development.

We encourage you to submit an application if you think you would enjoy working here. If you would like further information about the post, or would like to visit the school, please email the head of department, Charlotte Wood (CWood@rmgs.org.uk). We look forward to receiving your application. Thank you very much for your interest.
