

PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Oakwood Park Grammar School has a Psychology Department consisting of two full time Psychology specialists teaching both A Level and GCSE.

Psychology is currently the most popular subject choice in Year 12 and is also a popular GCSE option. We follow the AQA specification at A Level and the AQA GCSE. Students do not need to have studied the subject at GCSE to progress to A Level. Students enjoy their studies and historically a large number go on to study Psychology or related subjects at a higher level.

We believe that Psychology is a subject that is accessible to everyone and are looking for a member of the department who will share our passion for this dynamic subject and who is motivated in keeping their subject knowledge up to date.

We expect our students to take responsibility for their own learning and be active participants in the learning process. We use our psychological knowledge of learning in our pedagogy and are looking for reflective practitioners who are keen to develop their repertoire of teaching skills and understand that learning is a life-long process.
